

Privacy Policy

Welcome to Avventura Travels Limited's privacy notice. This privacy notice applies to personal data collected www.avventuratravels.com (the "Website").

Avventura Travels respects your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal data. This privacy notice will inform you as to how we look after your personal data when you visit our Website (regardless of where you visit it from), or when you otherwise provide personal data to us via other means (such as over the telephone or in person) in order to purchase travel services, and tell you about your privacy rights and how the law protects you.

Please refer to the Glossary that we have set out at the end of this privacy notice, if there is any terminology used that you are unfamiliar with or that you don't fully understand.

1. Important information and who we are

Purpose of this privacy notice

This privacy notice aims to give you information on how Avventura Travels collects and processes your personal data, including any data you may provide through this Website or via any other means (such as over the telephone or in person) when you purchase travel services, when you sign up to our newsletter or other marketing materials or when you take part in a competition etc.

This website is not intended for children and the only circumstances in which we collect data relating to children is where you make a booking of travel services and you have children in your party.

Controller

Avventura Travels Limited, a company registered in England and Wales, with company number 11789841 and registered office address of Highdown House, 11 Highdown Road, Leamington Spa, Warwickshire, England CV31 1XT (referred to as "Avventura Travels", "we", "us" or "our") is the data controller responsible for your personal data.

We have appointed a data privacy manager who is responsible for overseeing questions in relation to this privacy notice. If you have any questions about this privacy notice, including any requests to exercise your legal rights, please get in touch by emailing privacy@avventuratravels.com or writing to us at Avventura Travels Limited, Unit 10/11, Mere Farm Business Complex, Red House Lane, Hannington, NN6 9FP.

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues via www.ico.org.uk. We would, however, appreciate the chance to deal with your concerns before you approach the ICO so please contact us in the first instance.

Changes to the privacy notice and your duty to inform us of changes

We keep our privacy policy under regular review. This version was last updated on 11th June 2019 and historic versions can be obtained by contacting us.

It is important that the personal data we hold about you is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if any of the details you provide to us should change, during the course of your relationship with us.

Third-party links

This website may include links to third-party websites, plug-ins and applications. Clicking on those links or enabling those connections may allow third parties to collect or share data about you. We do not control these third-party websites and are not responsible for their privacy statements. When you leave our Website, we encourage you to read the privacy notice of every website you visit.

2. The data we collect about you

Personal data, or personal information, means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified. It does not include data where the identity has been removed (anonymous data).

We may collect, use, store and transfer different kinds of personal data about you which we have grouped together follows:

- (A) Identity Data which includes data relating specifically to your identity, such as your first name, maiden name, last name, username or similar identifier, marital status, title, date of birth and gender.
- (B) Contact Data which includes data relating to how you may be contacted, such as your billing address, delivery address, email address and telephone numbers.
- (C) Financial Data which includes data relating to your means and methods of payment, such as your bank account and payment card details.
- (D) Transaction Data which includes data relating to the transactions you have carried out with us, such as details about payments to and from you and other details of products and services you have purchased from us.
- (E) Technical Data this includes more technical data that we may obtain when you make use of our website, such as your internet protocol (IP) address, your login data, browser type and version, time zone setting and location, browser plug-in types and versions, operating system and platform and other technology on the devices you use to access this website.
- (F) Profile Data this includes the data that we receive when you create a profile on our website and make use of that profile, such as your username and password, purchases or orders made by you, your interests, preferences, feedback and survey responses.
- (G) Usage Data this includes information about how you use our Website, products and services.
- (H) Marketing and Communications Data this includes your preferences in relation to whether or not you want to receive marketing from us and our third parties and also your communication preferences.

We also collect, use and share Aggregated Data such as statistical or demographic data for any purpose. Aggregated Data may be derived from your personal data but is not considered personal data in law as this data does not directly or indirectly reveal your identity. For example, we may aggregate your Usage Data to calculate the percentage of users accessing a specific website feature. However, if we combine or connect Aggregated Data with your personal data so that it can directly or indirectly identify data, we will treat the combined data as personal data which will be used in accordance with this privacy notice.

Special Categories of Personal Data

We collect special categories of personal data about you, including your dietary requirement which may disclose your religious or philosophical beliefs and any health/travel related medical information.

We collect and process the above data only where it is necessary to do so in order to deliver the travel service that you have purchased. Furthermore, we will only collect and process the above special categories of sensitive personal data where you have provided us with your explicit consent to do so.

You are not under any obligation to consent to us processing your sensitive personal data. However, without your consent, we won't be able to make the necessary arrangements to provide the travel services that you have booked or are attempting to book. As a result, if you do not provide your consent, we will be unable to proceed with your booking.

If you are happy to consent to our use of your sensitive personal data, you will also be able to withdraw your consent at any time. However, as this will prevent us from providing the travel service you have booked, we will be required to treat any withdrawal of consent as a cancellation of your booking and the cancellation charges referred to in the relevant Booking Conditions will become payable.

Please note that by voluntarily providing us with these special categories of personal data, whether during the booking process or otherwise, we will take this as explicit consent that we're able to process these special categories of personal data solely for the purpose of processing your booking, and this includes passing this information on to relevant supplier.

If you fail to provide personal data

Where we need to collect personal data by law or under the terms of a contract we have with you and you fail to provide that data when requested, we may not be able to perform the contract we have or are trying to enter with you.

In other words, where we require details from you in order to provide you with your chosen travel services and you do not provide us with the necessary details, then we will not be able to provide the services you have booked or are attempting to book.

In this case, depending upon when you fail to provide the necessary data, we may either not be able to process your booking or we may have to cancel your booking. In which case we will treat this as a 'cancellation by you' in accordance with Clause 3 in our Booking Conditions. We will notify you if we are unable to process a booking or are required to cancel a booking for this reason.

3. How your personal data is collected

We use different methods to collect data from and about you including through:

- (A) Direct interactions. You may give us your Identity, Contact and Financial Data by filling in forms or by corresponding with us with by post, phone, and email or otherwise. This includes personal data you provide when you:
 - Make a booking of travel services;
 - Create an account on our Website;
 - Subscribe to our newsletter or other publications;
 - Request marketing to be sent to you;
 - Enter a competition, promotion or survey; or
 - Give us some feedback.
- (B) Automated technologies or interactions. As you interact with our Website, we may automatically collect Technical Data about your equipment, browsing actions and patterns. We may collect this personal data by using cookies, server logs and other similar technologies. We may also receive Technical Data about you if you if you visit other websites employing our cookies. Please see our Cookie Policy for further details.
- (C) Third parties. We may receive personal data about you from various third parties as set out below:
 - Technical Data from the following parties:

- i. Analytics providers such as Google based outside the EU;
- ii. Mailing list providers such as Mailchimp based outside the EU; and
- iii. Payment services providers such as Worldpay based outside the EU.
- Contact, Financial and Transaction Data from providers of technical, payment and delivery services such as Worldpay and Mailchimp, both of which are based in the United States.

4. How we use your personal data

We will only use your personal data when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we use will your personal data in the following circumstances:

- Where we need to perform the contract we are about to enter into or have entered into with you;
- Where it is necessary for our legitimate interests (or those of a third party) and your interests and fundamental rights do not override those interests; or
- Where we need to comply with legal or regulatory obligation.

Generally we do not rely on consent as a legal basis for processing your personal data other than in relation to sending direct marketing communications to you via email or text message. You have the right to withdraw consent to marketing at any time by contacting us.

Purposes for which we will use your personal data

We have set out below, in a table format, a description of all the ways we plan to use your personal data, and which of the legal bases we rely on to do so. We have also identified what our legitimate interests are where appropriate.

Note that we may process your personal data for more than one lawful ground depending on the specific purpose for which we are using your data. Please contact us if you need details about the specific legal ground we are relying on to process your personal data where more than one ground has been set out below.

Marketing

We strive to provide you with choices regarding certain personal data uses, particularly around marketing and advertising.

Promotional offers from us

We may use your Identity, Contact, Technical, Usage and Profile Data to form a view on what we think you may want or need, or what may be of interest to you. This is how we decide which products, services and offers may be relevant for you (we call this marketing).

You will receive marketing communications from us if you have requested information from us or purchased services from us and, in each case, you have not opted out of receiving that marketing.

Third-party marketing

We will get your express opt-in consent before we share your personal data with any third party company for marketing purposes.

Opting out

You can ask us or third parties to stop sending you marketing messages at any time by unchecking the relevant boxes or using the unsubscribe button that will be on all marketing messages sent to you.

Where you opt-out of receiving these marketing messages, this will not apply to personal data that you have provided to us as a result of a purchase of travel services or other such transactions.

Cookies

You can set your browser to refuse some or all browser cookies, or to alert you when websites set or access cookies. If you disable or refuse cookies, please note that some parts of this website may become inaccessible or not function properly. For more information about the cookies we use, please see our Cookies Policy.

Change of purpose

We will only use your personal data for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If you wish to get an explanation as to how the processing for the new purpose is compatible with the original purpose, please contact us.

If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Please note that we may process your personal data without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

5. Disclosures of your personal data

We have to share your personal data with the parties set out below for the purposes set out in the table in Clause 4 above.

- (A) External Third Parties such as suppliers of the travel arrangements available to book on the Website, all based outside the EU and acting data processors.
- (B) Specific Third Parties such as Worldpay and Mailchimp, both of which are based outside the EU.
- (C) Third parties to whom we may choose to sell, transfer, or merge parts of our business or our assets.

Alternatively, we may seek to acquire other businesses or merge with them. If a change happens to our business, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this privacy notice.

We require all third parties to respect the security of your personal data and to treat it in accordance with the law. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes and only permit to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

6. International transfers

Many of our external third parties are based outside the European Economic Area (EEA) so their processing of your personal data will involve a transfer of data outside the EEA.

Where you have requested a booking for travel arrangements which are located or otherwise due to be fulfilled outside the EEA, we will have to transfer your personal data to the suppliers fulfilling or providing those travel arrangements outside the EEA in order to make your booking and for those suppliers to be able to provide you with the travel arrangements you have booked. Where we are unable to rely on one of the safeguards outlined below when transferring data to those suppliers outside the EEA, we will rely on the derogation under Article 49 of the GDPR in order to transfer your personal data to countries outside the EEA (as the transfer relates to the performance of a contract for your benefit), and you hereby permit us to do. You also acknowledge that where your personal data is transferred outside the EEA, controls on data protection may not be as wide as the legal requirements within the EEA.

For all other transfers of data, whenever your personal data is transferred outside the EEA, we ensure a similar degree of protection is afforded to it by ensuring at least one of the following safeguards is implemented:

- We will only transfer your personal data to countries that have been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data by the European Commission. For further details see European Commission: Adequacy of the protection of personal data in non-EU countries.
- Where we use certain service providers, we may use specific contracts approved by the European Commission which give personal data the same protection it has in Europe. For further details see European Commission: Model contracts for the transfer of personal data to third countries.
- Where we use providers based in the US, we may transfer data to them if they are part of the Privacy Shield which requires them to provide similar protection to personal data shared between the Europe and the US. For further details see European Commission: EU-US Privacy Shield.

Please contact us if you want further information on the specific mechanism used by us when transferring your personal data out of the EEA.

7. Data security

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In additions, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. They will only process your personal data on our instructions and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected personal data breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

8. Data retention

How long will you use my personal data for?

We will only retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or other requirements.

By law we have to keep basic information about our customers (including Contact, Identity, Financial and Transaction Data) for seven years after they cease being customers for tax purposes, or two years since you last engaged with us after receiving marketing communication from us or making an enquiry with us.

In some circumstances you can ask us to delete your data: see Request erasure in Clause 9 below for further information.

In some circumstances we may anonymise your personal data (so that it can no longer be associated with you) for research or statistical purposes in which case we may use this information indefinitely without further notice to you.

9. Your legal rights

Under certain circumstances, you have rights under data protection laws in relation to your personal data. Please see below for more information:

- (A) Request access to your personal data (commonly known as a "data subject access request"). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- (B) Request correction of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to have any incomplete or inaccurate data we hold about you corrected, though we may need to verify the accuracy of the new data you provide us.
- (C) Request erasure of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal data where you have successfully exercised your right to object to processing (see below), where we may have processed your information unlawfully or where we are required to erase your personal data to comply with local law. Note, however, that we may not always be able to comply with your request of erasure for specific legal reasons which will be notified to you, if applicable, at the time of your request.
- (D) Object to processing of your personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third-party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground as you feel it impacts your fundamental rights and freedoms. You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal data for direct marketing purposes. In some cases, we may demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate grounds to process your information which overrides your rights and freedoms.

(E) Request restriction of processing your personal data. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of your personal data in the following scenarios:

- i. If you want us to establish the data's accuracy;
- ii. Where our use of the data is unlawful but you do not want us to erase it;
- iii. Where you need us to hold the data even if we no longer require it as you need it to establish, exercise or defend legal rights or
- iv. You have objected to our use of your data but we need to verify whether we have overriding legitimate grounds to use it.

(F) Request transfer of your personal data to you or a third party. We will provide to you, or a third party you have chosen, your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format. Note that this right only applies to automated information which you initially provide consent for us to use or where we used the information to perform the contract with you.

(G) Right to withdraw consent at any time where we are relying on consent to process your personal data. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent. If you withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide certain products or services to you. We will advise you if this is the case at the time you withdraw your consent.

If you wish to exercise any of the rights set out above, please contact us using the details given in Clause 1.

No fee usually required. You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances.

What we may need from you. We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your personal data (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

Time limit to respond. We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month. Occasionally it may take us longer than a month if your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you and keep you updated.

10. Glossary

LAWFUL BASIS

- Legitimate interest means the interest of our business in conducting and managing our business to enable us to give you the best service and the best and secure experience. We make sure we consider and balance any potential impact on you (both positive and negative) and your rights before we process your personal data for our legitimate interests. We do not use your personal data for activities where our interests are overridden by the impact on you (unless we have your consent or are otherwise required or permitted to by law). You can obtain further information about how we assess our legitimate interests against my potential impact on you in respect of specific activities by contacting us.

- Performance of contract means processing your data where it is necessary for the performance of a contract to which you are a party or to take steps your request before entering into such a contract.
- Comply with a legal or regulatory obligation means processing your personal data where it is necessary for compliance with a legal or regulatory obligation that we are subject to.
